SO13184	SO13184 M.C.S. ENTRIES = ++PTF (SO13184) CAY6593E ISSUED ON IDCAMS REPRO WHEN VB LRECL IN > OUT PROBLEM DESCRIPTION: When using IDCAMS REPRO to copy from one VB file to another and the output file LRECL is less than the input file, JCLCheck reports a CAY6593E error message. When the job is run, it is possible that it will complete without error. The error that can occur depends on the length of the records contained in the file. If all the records are smaller than the output LRECL, IDCAMS will complete without error. If any of the records are longer, IDCAMS will skip these records and end with RC=8. Since this is data dependent, JCLCheck cannot detect which condition will occur. Since this is not a hard error, a new message will be issued as a warning to better describe the condition. This only applies when both input and output files are RECFM=VB. CAY6593E 'indd' AND 'outdd' HAVE CONFLICTING OR INCONSISTENT VALUES New message. CAY6616W 'in_dd' VB LRECL > 'out_dd' VB LRECL, RECORDS LONGER THAN 'out_lrecl' WILL FAIL TO COPY Reason: The JCL contains an IDCAMS REPRO that is copying from one VB file to another VB file. The LRECL on the output file is smaller than the input file. This may cause an error when run if the input file has any records that a longer than the output file LRECL. When run, IDCAMS will skip any long records and set a RC=8. If no records exceed the out lrecl length the job will complete without error. Action: To protect from possible error, use the same LRECL size for both files. If this practice is common in your shop and you are sure it will not fail, you can reduce the severity or suppress this message using MCOSYS/MCOUSR options.).</pre>
