1. DEFINITIONS.

- “Easytrieve Language” means the programming language used by the Broadcom Software. The Easytrieve Language may be translated into machine language using the compiler component of the Broadcom Software.

2. USE RIGHTS AND LIMITATIONS.

- Customer may use the Broadcom Software for the number of MIPS or MSUs set forth in the Transaction Document.
- The Broadcom Software may generate modules, models, and source code (“Generated Objects”), which include proprietary components of Broadcom. Customer will not, nor allow a third party to, 1) use the Generated Objects and/or the Easytrieve Language in order to facilitate a transition to another product that is generally competitive with, or a substitute for, the Broadcom Software (a "Competitor Product"); or 2) use the Generate Objects and/or Easytrieve Language to utilize a Competitor Product as a replacement for the Broadcom Software. Customer will not, nor allow a third party to, de-compile or reverse engineer any Generated Object. Broadcom Software macros are proprietary components of Broadcom.

3. THIRD PARTY INFORMATION AND TERMS.

Any required third-party software license terms are incorporated by this reference and are set forth in online documentation at techdocs.broadcom.com or legaldocs.broadcom.com.
